I. Industry structure and developments

The tech industry is always in flux. Frequent new products and category innovation define and redefine the sector's constantly shifting landscape. But lately we've seen even greater volatility than usual, and it has begun to affect the makeup of hardware and software companies themselves.

The tech industry is being reshaped in numerous ways. Disruption is evident in software and services delivery, business models, the vast amount of money being poured into startups of all stripes, the cloud, big data, entrepreneurialism, and constant innovation. Against that backdrop, companies can no longer rely on one-note value strategies.

Over the past two decades, India has risen to become the leading destination for global IT services sourcing, business process services and research and development services. Global IT services providers, based in India, have a proven track record for providing business and technology solutions, offering a large, high quality and English-speaking talent pool and a friendly regulatory environment. These factors have facilitated the emergence of India as a global sourcing hub.

Global IT sourcing from India offers significant cost advantages as well as productivity gains on account of access to highly skilled and competent talent at lower wage costs. According to the National Association of Software and Service Companies (NASSCOM) Strategic Review Report 2015 ("NASSCOM Report"), India-based IT services providers have been able to maintain their cost competitiveness by deploying various cost control strategies including the delivery networks in Tier II/III cities, recruiting on college and university campuses as well as experienced professionals, and offsetting wage inflation with operational gains and productivity measures.

Business favorable policy decisions of the Government of India have played a key role in the development of robust IT and business process management ("BPM") sectors in the country. The Software Technology Park ("STP") Scheme and the Special Economic Zone Act also played a critical role in the emergence and development of the IT and BPM industries by providing incentives in the form of tax holidays.

These opportunities are in the areas of Health care, Skill Development. The company is making concerted efforts and investments to move up the value chain in its chosen markets and acquiring new competencies and services. It includes strengthening of domain knowledge, hiring highly talented sales and marketing managers, restructuring of businesses, project management and investments in new geographies. The company is experiencing significant traction from its existing customers and is receiving several enquiries from potential customers in its chosen markets. The company continues to strengthen and build relationships with its current and prospective customers as well as its global delivery model to ensure a low total cost of ownership for the customer.

Threats

Our revenues from this business are derived in major currencies of the world. The exchange rate between the rupee and major currencies of the world has fluctuated significantly in recent years and may continue to fluctuate in the future. Currency fluctuations can adversely affect our revenues and gross margins. In an economic slowdown, our clients may reduce or postpone their technology spending significantly. Reduction in spending on IT services may lower the demand for our services and negatively affect our revenues and profitability.

At an organizational level, we have a well-defined business contingency plan and disaster recovery plan to address these unforeseen events and minimize the impact on services delivered from our development centers based in India or abroad. Your company has perfect understanding of the amount of risks and extent of risks involved while delivering the project to client and knows well how to tackle them effectively. Your company is also trying to explore and find other opportunities that might prove to be beneficial in increasing our revenues and gain market share. Threat continues to be competition among companies within India and from emerging low cost destinations.

Segment wise or product wise performance:

This does not applicable to the company as the company is operating in only one segment.

Risks and concerns:
